BUTLER COUNTY, NEBRASKA

(It) lies in the middle eastern part of the state. It has 15,382 inhabitants. David City is the county seat. The topography in the eastern part is mostly rolling prairie and in the western part, the land is level or just slightly rolling. Along the North Platte River, there are valleys three and four miles wide and above them a range of mountains, they end in the western part of the county. The soil over the whole county is fertile with the exception along the Platte river's edge which is sandy. Price of land is from $25 to $40 an acre. Prices vary according to whether it is good farm land and how close it is to a town and if it is much higher, there are buildings on the land. Czech Moravians settled in the eastern part of the county, they sort of united with the settlers in Saunders and Colfax Counties. They demand their own rights which Czechs everywhere see great need, they have their own Czech day in the county exposition and show their products they have grown to show the progress of the Czechs in the county to other nationalities.

Besides the three lodges of the C.S.P.S. in Linwood, Bruno, and David City, there is founded the spirited athletic union of Sokols in Linwood and Bruno. Further, there is here I would guess a number of Catholic lodges. The Czech Catholic churches that are found in the county, number three, one in Brainard, one in Abie, and in section 1 in Franklin Precinct.

The towns of Bruno, Abie, Nimberg and Linwood are almost all Czech, only a small number who are of a different nationality live here. The Czechs always managed their own share of offices. Mr. M.A. Masek is now county commissioner and Mr. Jan Texl is a member of the county exhibition (county fair) commission. With the exception of the reconciliation court, the constable, and road overseers, for the individual it was very big, you will find the business and public offices are almost all in the hands of the Czechs. We see here as elsewhere in the county, there are several members of a social group who can't help but boast and go to excessive flattery. They can't understand why or what for they have to send word to proclaim their birthplace in the old country, where they say they hadn't stolen anything, they would bury you with a choice expression, so please if all of this is not completely correct, I hope no one will be offended. Jan Texl in Bruno who sacrificed his time and work to give this information says nothing wrong or illegal was given; there fore, I extend my thanks that without his contributions and trouble, this could not have been given in its entirety, as with some exception, this is work.

In the precinct, Scul Creek on section 15, there stands my error, I wrote on the map the place of Jan Dolezal, Fr. Sabata, and later was unable to correct the error. You will notice that the first number of the section is followed by the name and where the name Krajan is settled and follows only where in fact is the land.
