CHASE COUNTY, NEBRASKA

(It) lies in the southwestern part of the state bordering Colorado. It has 4803 inhabitants. Imperial at the end of B & M railroad coming from Culbertson, is the county seat. Topography is mostly rolling but again in places very level, the level ground is productive although the soil is sandy. Most of the county is sandy. Around the stream of Whiteman, the soil is very gravelly. In the western part of the county, water for wells is possible at from 50 to 100 feet deep. In the eastern part deeper wells can be dug where the water is good tasting. Around the postoffice of Champion, there runs a channel of water, but doesn't seem to be used. Seems the water is used from the Whiteman stream. Land here is valued from $2.00 to $10.00 an acre, depending how productive it is. Government lands are few and what is available is very sandy and unproductive. Even if given away free would prove costly as it could only be used as pastureland and proving on it almost impossible. Czechs are scattered over the county many miles apart. Most are settled in the northeast near the postoffice of Lamar where the land is moderately rolling and the soil more fertile.
