SHERMAN COUNTY, NEBRASKA

The county lies somewhat southeast of the middle of the state and population is 6,300. Loup City is county seat. Topography in south section lies gently rolling. The Loup River winds through county and there is considerable sand. Furthermore, the river soil is fertile, water lies constantly 30 to 100 feet deep. The first Czech settlers were Mr. Fr. Fiala, and Mr. Jos. Horak, they first lived in Washington County, Iowa and came in year 1878.

Soil is fertile (where Czechs live in the section), topography beautiful, costly, and towns are near and at the present time, confidence is that there will be a large Czech settlement in the future.

GARFIELD COUNTY, NEBRASKA

(Garfield Co.) borders the county of Valley. Population is 1,655. Town of Burwell is county seat. The topography is mightly rolling prairie and in south section, soil is very sandy. This county is sparsely settled (with dwellings) because anyone farming the soil of the enormous large deep valleys is a disaster. Czechs are few.
